China Gateway

GLOBAL GATEWAYS

The Global Gateways are multi-faceted centers established to enhance the university's teaching, research, and service missions. Today, the Gateway offices in China (2010), India (2012) and Brazil (2014) advance the university's global reach in three distinct regions of the world. Ohio State has strong ties with China through ongoing faculty collaborations, education abroad programs and international student enrollment. The China Gateway is located in Shanghai.

STRATEGIC AREAS OF FOCUS

Student Support and Global Education

Support prospective and current students by visiting high schools and attending recruitment fairs and events, interacting with admitted students in collaboration with the Office of Student Academic Success, communicating needs unique to international students, hosting pre-departure and pre-arrival orientations for incoming students, facilitating education abroad and virtual global education experiences and promoting career opportunities.

Partnerships and Collaborations

Support faculty and staff through research connections, provide information on grants and funding and industry and university partnership, conduct professional development on emerging topics and areas of interest, and facilitate staff exchange programs and intercultural training for faculty and staff on working with international populations. Global Gateways also host conferences on different research areas and collaborate with faculty and staff on events that are hosted in the region by providing logistical and in-country support.

Alumni and Advancement

Connect and engage with international alumni to strengthen their relationship with Ohio State, develop and support alumni club activities in the region, enlist alumni support for enrollment and professional development opportunities.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Recruitment

Supports Ohio State's undergraduate and graduate recruitment efforts by visiting high schools, partnering with the Offices of International Affairs, Student Academic Success and Student Life to host Pre-departure Orientation and yield events, and attending college fairs organized by EducationUSA and American Universities China Association.

Fisher College of Business Global Applied Projects

The Global Applied Projects program enables Fisher College of Business MBA students to gain international experience by working on real world business challenges in global locations for Fisher corporate partners and project sponsors. Students spend a majority of the 14-week spring semester course on campus, attending classes and working remotely with their partner organization, and travel to their partner's global location during Spring Break.

Career Services

Helps Ohio State students and alumni explore career opportunities in China and engage with corporate partners for multifaceted collaborations.

Research Collaborations

Strategically connects faculty and researchers at Ohio State with corporations and organizations in Greater China, and facilitates collaborations with academia, industry and non-profits.

Liaison Services

Supports Ohio State faculty who visit China for academic conferences, meetings with university partners, field work and education abroad programs. Assists with travel logistics, event and meeting planning, accommodation recommendations and serving as interpreters in meetings with partners in China.

Pre-Departure Orientations, Student Engagement

Hosts Pre-departure Orientation with support from the Offices of International Affairs, Student Academic Success and Student Life for new students from China to share valuable information and connect with current students and alumni.

Events

Collaborates with Ohio State's colleges and departments interested in hosting events alongside partners in China. Building on the strength of Ohio State's teaching and research, the team has partnered to coordinate conferences, forums and workshops in a variety of areas.

Global Alumni Services

Fulfills a vital role to connect with alumni worldwide. The China Gateway collaborates with regional alumni clubs to organize events, create networking opportunities and maintain a database of alumni living in China.
